MRS MANNING'S MESSAGE

Dear parents and carers,

What a lovely sunny end to a wet and windy week! It makes such a difference that the children can go out at playtimes and engage in all of the new equipment and adult led games on offer, from 4 square, table tennis, basketball and aerobic dance sessions.

I have attached a flyer to this email to say our school nurse will be running a drop-in clinic over at the Hive Pastoral Hub in school on the 3rd October from 9am-12.30pm. NEWS AND UPDATES:

This week in Reception, the children have been learning about families. They shared photos of their own families and talked about why families are special. Then, having listened to a lovely story called 'Lucy's Picture' in which Lucy makes a collage for her Grandad, the children used a variety of resources to make a collage for someone special in their family. What amazing artists we have in EYFS!

NEWS AND UPDATES:

New staff member introduction:

My name is Mrs Goddard and I am delighted to be writing to you to introduce myself as Trinity's new Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCO) and Inclusion Lead. I am thrilled to be joining a school which has such an unwavering commitment to its children and families, helping ensure that the young people who attend Trinity have the best possible start in life. I am proud to have joined a team, which so obviously has the best children at HEART.

I have been a primary school teacher for 19 years and have also worked in the SEN team within the Local Authority. Navigating through the world of SEND is not always easy, for families or for professionals. I am familiar with the challenges of securing the right support for children with SEND, and understand how important it is that school and home work in partnership so that we meet those challenges together.

I am looking forward to getting to know the pupils at Trinity and working with my colleagues to meet students' needs and secure the best possible outcomes for every child. I look forward to meeting parents and families over the coming months.
